Day 3

The Blend of Old and New

Bur Dubai, Deira Souqs & Dubai Marina/JBR

Going back to Dubai, and looking for some novelty items and souvenirs to shop? Look no further. You'll get handwoven fabrics and carpets, traditional perfumes and dresses, ornate gold jewellery, and even herbs and spices, in the souqs located in the bustling heart of Old Dubai.

"Souq" is an Arabic term for a traditional market. And the souqs of Bur Dubai and Deira give fascinating glimpses into the UAE's rich history and heritage.

The two districts of Bur Dubai and Deira are separated by the Dubai Creek, a saltwater creek that has become a hub of commercial and residential activity in the city over the years. And this is still one of the most popular tourist attractions in Dubai.

You can traverse the Dubai Creek to go to both sides of Bur Dubai and Deira riding the abra. It is the city's most traditional mode of transport and is still the cheapest, for only 1 dirham (about US$ 0.27).

You can conclude your third day and have an awe-inspiring night to remember down south at Dubai Marina and Jumeirah Beach Residences (JBR) area. These are two impressive communities that boast luxury skyscrapers, a range of dining and entertainment options and it offers stunning urban waterfront living to its residents.

You can book a Dhow Cruise at the Marina so you can have a sumptuous dinner while traversing around the Marina, showcasing its gleaming skyscrapers.

Trip Trick

You can explore the Dubai Marina and JBR area via the Dubai Tram. Make sure you get your unlimited travel day pass which you can use in the Dubai Metro and Dubai Bus as well.

Day 4

Day 5

Save the Best for Last!

The Dubai Mall and Burj Khalifa

Your visit to Dubai will not be complete without going to the penultimate The Dubai Mall, the world's biggest shopping mall. It has a lot in store for everyone, from dining to entertainment, and fun activities for the whole family.

The Dubai Mall is just one part of the much bigger Downtown Dubai complex, where you can also find the world's tallest building, Burj Khalifa, just right beside the mall.

And even though as they say that it will take you more than a day to explore every corner of this huge mall complex, you can still squeeze in a full day to visit all the popular attractions here.

Here are some of the popular attractions you can enjoy at The Dubai Mall complex:

At The Top, Burj Khalifa - It's one of the world's highest observatories located on the 124th floor, and it will give you a 360-degree view of the Dubai skyline.

Dubai Aquarium and Underwater Zoo - It's the world's largest suspended, aquarium, holding 10 million litres of seawater and 33000 varied species of marine life.

VR Park - Experience the one-of-a-kind and world's largest & penultimate virtual and augmented reality attraction.

KidZania - Catering to kids between 4-16 years, this helps teach them real-life skills in this attraction that resembles a real town.

Dubai Ice Rink - You can skate, twirl and even display some crazy or sleek turns across this state-of-the-art ice area.

Dubai Fountain - Immerse yourself in its brilliantly choreographed extravaganza wherein water reaches up to a great height of up to 500 feet. Get a traditional boat (abra) ride and get an up-close vantage point of the fountain.

Trip Trick
